

BIOGRAPHY

Christine Daines

Vice President and Chief Financial Officer,
Space Launch
Division, Boeing
Defense, Space & Security

Christine Daines is the vice president of Finance and chief financial officer (CFO) for the Space and Launch division of Boeing Defense, Space & Security (BDS). In this role, she is responsible for all finance related activities in the division. The portfolio includes the International Space Station, CST-100 Starliner Commercial Crew program, Space Launch System program, government and commercial satellite systems, and new ventures expanding Boeing's work in space exploration.

Previously, Daines served as the CFO for Boeing's Autonomous Systems division; BDS controller responsible for all accounting, financial analysis & compliance activities; vice president of Tiltrotor programs for Boeing's Vertical Lift division; and director of the Bell Boeing V-22 program. Her prior experiences also include CFO for the Vertical Lift and Electronic & Information Solutions divisions, director of Rotorcraft Financial Operations, and senior manager of Business Operations for Air Traffic Management.

Daines holds a Masters degree from George Washington University in Washington D.C., and a Bachelor degree from Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota. She serves on the Board of Directors for United Launch Alliance. She also helped launch the Boeing Finance Women's Leadership Network, and she served as the executive sponsor to the Philadelphia Boeing Women in Leadership Board.

United Launch Alliance
P.O. Box 3788
Englewood, CO 80155
ulalaunch.com